JeffC: here is my sight for today: <http://owl.english.purdue.edu/>

JeffC: and here's their old site: <http://owl.english.purdue.edu/oldindex.html>

BJB2 nods. Citations, right?

JeffC: Purdue's "online writing lab."

BJB2: nice

JeffC: anyhow... pinch hitting for Sandra, who is ducking tornados... so... if you have sites to share please do.

DavidW: There's a pretty cool Writers' House at the University of Pennsylvania - I haven't looked at their web site, but here it is:

DavidW: <http://www.writing.upenn.edu/~wh/>

SherylM: I was looking around at 6 trait stuff and I came across this: related to teacher writing: <http://www.nwrel.org/nwedu/11-01/cfg/>

SherylM: <http://www.nwp.org/cs/public/print/doc/findasite/home.csp>

DavidW wonders if we are done sharing

SherylM: This is an online site I found when I was looking for teen poetry sites; I will check it out but it looks cool: <http://www.teenink.com/Contests/PoetryC.php>

JeffC: bay area writing project is a good resource: www.bayareawritingproject.org

DavidW: Do you know about the journal "Stone Soup", Sheryl?

SherylM: Yes, but I haven't seen it in a long time.

DavidW: <http://www.stonesoup.com/about/>

JeffC is lagging pretty bad... but you should be really careful with poetry contests... many of them are scams to get you to get published... aka vanity press.

SherylM: and Voya; Voice OF Youth advocates

DavidW: published work of kids - I think from 8-13

JeffC . o O (stone soup... Danny Kaye!)

DavidW smiles

SherylM: yes, Jeff I agree; that is why I will check it out

SherylM: my favorite picture book; try to live the philosophy, most times

SherylM: Marcia Brown was really cool author/illustrator
